AROUND the TOWNSHIP

Aches, pains and groans, which invariably follow for most of us when we keep "stuffing the stuffing until the stuffing stuffs us" began on Monday following the Niles Chamber of Commerce turkey dinner and continued throughout the week, reaching its anguished crescendo during the afternoon hours of Thursday—except for those who were thankful that they quit in time.

Still, we all continue to rally 'round the festive board on Turkey Day.

It's all over until the Rose Bowl. The big game has been played and replayed and California is still the winner. Every man who made a bet was a gambler and the man who didn't is no bettor.

* * * *

Wet pavements and slippery leaves—motoring hazards at this time of year—were added to this week by the presence of children during daylight hours which ordinarily are spent in school. They are enjoying Thanksgiving Week holidays.

Up to the hour of going to press there has been no reason to believe that operators of automobiles in the township have failed to exercise due caution while on the highways and streets. Here's hoping this good record may be extended during the Christmas holidays and throughout the year.

Hats off to Clois Van Camp and Roy Kerns for their inventive genius. They made a successful tour up Niles' main street on a three-wheeled bicycle of their own manufacture this week and the vehicle is still performing properly.

After listening to John C. Kimber's discourse on the valuable contributions to pathological science made possible through research, much of which has been carried on at his poultry breeding farm at Niles, we have a new respect for the domestic fowl.

There will be a new note discernible whenever the voice of the hen (especially, the White Leghorn) is heard and it will mean something more than the fact that she is advertising to the world the production of another egg.

Mr. Kimber is an able speaker and has an interesting and limitless subject.

For several weeks the spirit of autumn and the harvest season has been ably reflected in the timely window decorative display at the Florence Restaurant. Just as the autumn season presents its wealth of changing colors, so the window display has been frequently changed to faithfully carry out the portrayal right into Thanksgiving week. It is a source of pleasure to the casual passerby, as well as those who frequent the place.

SCOUTMASTER TRAINING CLASSES ARE HELD FOR JUNIOR ASSISTANTS

NILES—W. T. Lindsay, field executive of the Boy Scouts of Southern Alameda County, was a member of the faculty at the training school held for junior assistant scoutmasters and senior patrol leaders at Diamond Camp on Wednesday.

Nibbs Price of the University spoke on "Team Work" and Homer J. Bemiss, executive of the Oakland Area Council, spoke on "Opportunities of a Scout Leader." Bugs Cain, general supervisor of training and John Ackerman, field executive for the Oakland Area Council, also took part.

Mr. Lindsay had charge of the junior assistant scoutmaster training class.

Meeting Called in Hayward To Discuss Junior College For South Part of County

Possibility of a Junior College in Southern Alameda County once more looms to the front of local discussion in the call for a general meeting for Nov. 29 at the Hayward High School. All residents of Southern Alameda County are invited to attend the meeting which is called by Oscar B. Paulsen, director of Advanced Vocational Department of the Hayward High School district.

Considerable interest in the Junior College move was felt here several years ago when William H. Ford offered to finance the project to the extent of $100,000. Several meetings were held following the first one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thane but it was felt at that time that the necessary additional money could not be raised.

It is estimated that the more than 2,000 students attending the Washingon Union High School at Centerville, Hayward Union High School, Amador Joint Union High School at Pleasanton and Livermore Union High School would furnish a sufficiently large enrollment for a Junior College situated in this section.

Local students not wishing or being able to attend Stanford University at Palo Alto or the University of California at Berkeley or other schools now go to other nearby Junior Colleges at San Jose, Stockton, San Mateo or elsewhere. State aid which would come to a local junior college is now appropriated to these other institutions.

Paulsen has enlisted the assistance of the Federated Improvement Clubs of Southern Alameda County in disseminating data regarding the junior college plan. Booklets giving detailed information will be circulated to members through the 25 civic units comprising the federation. Students also will be asked to carry home the copies to their parents.

Explaining the reasoning of educators and civic leaders in including only the area from about 154th Avenue to the southern boundary of the county in the proposed district, Paulsen declared that Oakland maintains virtually two junior colleges in the Merritt Business and Central Trades Schools.

"The wealth of the county is estimated at 400 million, only one-tenth of which is in the southern portion," Paulsen said. "It is obvious that if the entire county was included within the proposed district the college would be located in Oakland which already is adequately served."

Training Institute Will Tell Public of Advantages Of Organized Recreation

ALVARADO — A Recreation Training Institute, designed to more completely train recreation workers and to acquaint the public with the advantages of an organized recreation program, will be held in the auditorium of the Alvarado Grammar School, starting Tuesday, November 30.

This institute, a part of the training program of the Works Progress Administration Recreation Division, under the direction of Area Supervisor E. Rodney Overton, will consist of morning sessions from 9-12 on November 30, December 1 and 2, and an evening session on December 2, starting at 8 p. m.

Charles G. Bertoli, supervisor of the Alameda County Project of the federal agency, in reporting plans of the institute, stated it will attract recreation workers from all nearby communities, and will feature an educational program of merit.

"It is important that our workers be kept constantly in touch with new methods and ideas in the field of recreation if they are to be of greatest service to the communities, and these institutes have convincingly demonstrated the value of such concentrated attention to specific topics", Bertoli stated.

Among the prominent recreation leaders who will speak at the sessions are E. Rodney Overton, William Morrison, Louise E. Bird, June Yeates, Alice Augustine and Walter Silva.

Among the many topics to be discussed are those devoted to minor and major athletics, the conduct of lower organization games, handcraft, rainy-day programs, and methods of organizing playground clubs.

David E. Martin, Alameda County Superintendent of Schools and sponsor of he Alameda County Recreation Project, recently wrote, in connection with this Institute: "There are eight great objectives in education. Of these none is more important than 'A sane mind in a sound body'—The work of your Recreation Division, as I see it, has served, is still serving, and will continue to erve as an excellent means for motivating the work in physical education."

The evening session will feature songs by Alvarado playground children, community singing under the direction of Enid Heppler and Paul Larsen, a demonstration of the "Big Apple" and the initial presentation of the marionette show titled "Peter's Christmas Dream."

All sessions of the institute are open to the public, free of charge, Supervisor Bertoli added.

Landscaping Of Road Entrances May Be Project

NILES—Beautification of the highway entrances to Niles was discussed at last week's meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Florence Retaurant. George C. Roeding of the California Nursery offered to donate the services of a landscape architect to plan roadside improvements. Mr. Roeding's offer was accepted with thanks and it is probable that a committee will be appointed to work out a definite program.

Mr. Roeding also spoke of a recent conference with highway officials which indicated that the Niles Canyon road would not be improved before 1940. A delegation to the highway commission urging this work was suggested.

Three new members were received, Mr. Roeding, J. B. Smith, editor of The Township Register, and John Russo, manager of the Garden of Allah.

Ernest Frick was made chairman of the "On to Oakland" committee planning for the national convention to be held in Oakland in 1938.

Dr. T. C. Wilson reported on highway sivns but said he was waiting for a letter from the State Highway Commission regarding location.

The Junior Chamber expressed a favorable attitude toward the installation of dial phones in Niles.

Fourteen attended the meeting. President Lawrence Sharpe presided and L. L. Lewis acted as secretary in the absence of R. C. Attinger.

Farm Center Is At Midway Point Of Member Goal

CENTERVILLE—As a result of the all-day efforts of the committee working in the annual membership campaign of the Washington-Eden Farm Center, more than 100 members are now signed up. The goal is 200.

The committee started out early Monday morning and met at the Belvoir Hotel for lunch at noon. Those present were Paul Dougherty, director and Mrs. Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shinn, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Langdon, Herbert Young, Jesse Perry and Franklin Brown.

Final reports of the campaign which began Monday will be heard at the next meeting of the center which will be the Christmas party to be held at the Washington Union High School on Dec. 20. It is hoped that the 200-mark will have been reached by that time.

One dollar of the $4 membership fee stays in the treasury of the local center and $3 goes to the State Farm Bureau Federation.

Director Dougherty points out that in return for the membership fee, members automatically become affiliated with the National Farm Bureau Federation which has promoted most of the legislation beneficial to farmers and with the State Federation which works for the protection of growers, originated the California pro-rate, aided in adjustment of taxes for the benefit of farmers, maintains a legal department whose services are available to members, and a utility department protective to farmers in regard to freight rates, light and power rates.

Membership also entitles farmers and their families to attend monthly meetings of the local center, pays for the refreshments served during the social hours and permits attendance at the annual Farm Bureau dinner and picnic without further charge.

Sentence Awaits Two, Four Others Free In Robbery

CENTERVILLE — Once in a while in the rather dull routine of hearings in the local Justice Courts, something suddenly happens to justify the weekly attendance at procedures.

Spectators sat up and took notice last Friday when George B. Hamlin, charged with vagrancy in connection with the robbery of the M. D. Silva store at Newark last week, pleaded not guilty on the grounds that the vagrancy law was discriminatory and therefore unconstitutional.

"A man who doesn't pay his taxes is as much of a vagrant as I am and yet he is not arrested. I won't plead guilty to something that is unconstitutional and—"

And the audience was all set for a long discourse, but the defendant suddenly decided not to argue and to "rest on the mercy of the court".

"Guilty", said the judge, and that was that.

Three companions of Hamlin, William James, Henry Ward and William Sullivan, had previously pleaded guilty. Judgment was suspended as Deputy District Attorney Joe Schenone stated he did not feel there was any connection between the presence of the four and the robbery of the Silva store.

The two men picked up in Niles with bags of food and clothing said to have been taken from the Silva store pleaded guilty upon advice of the Deputy Public Defender Raymond Ferrario and were certified to the Superior Court for sentence. They are Frank Clark and Charles Johnston, the former having a long police record including time served at Alcatraz and Leavenworth on charges of bad checks, federal auto theft, etc.

Officers who made the arrests were Deputy Sheriffs Richard Condon and Ted Adams.

Services Tuesday In Newark Church Install Pastor

NEWARK—Official recognition of the Washington Township Parish of Presbyterian church will be given by the San Francisco Presbytery in the installation of Rev. Vernon Brown as pastor of the four churches which he has recently amalgamated at Centerville, Newark, Alvarado and Irvington.

Services will be held at the Newark church on Tuesday night, Nov. 30, at 8 o'clock. The public is invited and a social hour during which refreshments will be served will follow the installation ceremonies.

Rev. George Seares of the Lebanon Presbyterian church of San Francisco, moderator of the Presbytery, will preside. Dr. Clyde W. Smith, executive secretary of the Presbyterian board will deliver the sermon. Rev. Rev. Donald Reasoner, returned missionary from Brazil, who was a classmate of Rev. Brown, will offer the invocation. There will also be special music.

Rev. Brown was called to the local church in June from Felton and Ben Lomond churches in the Santa Cruz mountains. He is a native of Missouri but spent most of his life in Keokuk, Iowa. He attended Washington State University and graduated from the University of California and from the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo in 1925.

He was ordained in San Francisco at the old Holly Park Church the same year. He was pastor of the St. John's Church in Berkeley and had charge of religious education at the First Presbyterian church of Berkeley and at Fresno.

For three and a half years Rev. Brown had charge of the Neighborhood House at Butte, Montana, with 35 assistants. This institution has a monthly attendance of about 4,000.

He also served as pastor of the Olivet Presbyterian church in San Francisco.

Since coming to Newark, Rev. Brown has succeeded in combining the congregations of the four churches at Newark, Centerville, Alvarado and Irvington under one pastor. Joint meetings were held recently to commemorate the centennial of foreign missions of the church.

WHEN OLDSTERS MATCH WITS AGAINST SCHOOL YOUNGSTERS OF NILES

NILES—Here's an intelligence test for the parents who wish to match their wits and knowledge against those of their off-spring who are students in the seventh grade at the Niles Grammar School. How many famous inventors can you name and what did they invent? Let Johnny or Mary ask you the following questions and don't peek at the answers to be found at the bottom of the story.

The following inventors were impersonated by students at a recent parade of inventions given by Mrs. Dorothy Belshaw's class:

1. Spirit of Progress, Margaret Kerns.
2. Gutenberg, Harry Avilla.
3. James Watt, George Guzman.
4. James Hargreaves, Frank Perry.
5. Eli Whitney, Richard Farrington.
6. Robert Fulton, Jack Kimber.
7. Samuel F. B. Morse, Lawrence Perez.
8. Cyrus W. Field, Louie Costa.
9. James McCormick, Manuel Miller.
10. Alexander G. Bell, Robert Bunting.
11. Wilbur and Orville Wright, Tommy Champion and Andrew Lindsay.
12. Madame Curie, Avis Alberg.
13. Marconi, Leo Basurto.
14. Thomas Edison, Kenneth Calhoun.

(Inventions—How many did you guess correctly?)

2. Printing; 3, steam engine; 4, spinning jenny; 5, cotton gin; 6, steamboat; 7, telegraphy; 8, ocean cable; 9, reaper; 10, telephone; 11, airplane; 12, discoverer of radium; 13, wireless; 14, electric light, motion picture and many others.

STATE LICENSE PLATES ON AUTOS WILL BE YELLOW

The California license plates for 1938 will be chrome yellow instead of orange, with black numerals and alphabetical letters, reports the License Department of the National Automobile Club. The small double alphabetical letters appearing on late issues of 1937 plates will not be used in the 1938 series. For many years, California has had orange-black license plates.

FINAL RITES HELD FOR MAN FATALLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

NILES—Arthur Lee of Sunol, fatally injured when he fell from the top of a local gravel plant, was given final rites last Friday afternoon at the Albert Brown Chapel in Oakland. Interment was at the Mt. View cemetery.

Surviving are the widow, Maude Lee; one son, Arthur Lee, Jr., of Salinas; his mother, Mrs. Anna C. Lee and the following brothers and sisters: Mabel Mancebo, Mrs. Hattie Mitchell, Mrs. Alma Hollman, Ernest W. DeLoss, W., Abner W., Robert V., and Jewel E. Lee.

Lee's injuries were incurred when he slipped and fell approximately 70 feet while working on the top of the mill at the P. C. A. gravel plant. He received a cerebral concussion and fractures of the right arm and left hip. He was treated by Dr. E. C. Grau.

The deceased was a native of Oakland and had resided in Sunol for the past 25 years. He operated a blacksmith shop there prior to his connection with the Pacific Coast Aggregates Co., at Pleasanton and Niles. He was a member of the Pleasanton Parlor of Native Sons.

Lee passed away at the San Jose hospital.

NILES GRAMMAR SCHOOL P.-T. A. ENJOYS TALK AND SAFETY FILMS

NILES—Approximately 45 representatives of the Phoebe Hearst Council of the P.-T. A. met at the Niles Grammar School last week. It was decided that the December meeting would be held on Thursday, Dec. 16, in Hayward for the morning session only, from 10 to 12 o'clock. At this time there will be a display of fine arts and bird houses entered by the various schools in the Latham Foundation contest.

Due to a change in the constitution, a representative from the Niles unit is to be added to the nominating committee. The committee will be elected in January, nominations made in February and the election in March.

A. J. Rathbone was the speaker of the day at last Thursday's meeting. He discussed the Schools in Democracy. A review of "Northwest Passage" was given by Mrs. Roland Bendel and during the afternoon there was a showing of safety films by Clarence Johnson of Hayward and Mr. Green of the National Automobile Club.

Luncheon was served in the cafeteria by the local unit at noon.

SPECULATION RIFE AMONG ELIGIBLES FOR STATE PENSION

MASONIC HOME, DECOTO—Now that most of the members of the Decoto Home are making up their Christmas and New Year's budgets, the 200 which the trustees of the California Masonic Homes which includes the Children's Home at Covina, estimate are eligibles to the old age pension, are anxious to know how much of that $35 per month will be coming to them.

By action of the recent communication of the grand lodge the trustees are to deduct the greater portion of the allowance for board and other essentials for those of the "eligibles" who may avail themselves of the permission to remain in the home.

At this writing there are many guesses as what the 200 members in the eligible list will get, and one guess is about as good as another, the amounts ranging from $10 to $2.50 per month. One of the trustees says that he expects the amount will be "around $5". But there are yet a number of things to be ironed out. And it may be more than $5, and it may be less.

There may prove to be more than 200 eligibles. With 350 as the total membership there are 150 on the provisional ineligible list.

Ineligibility may be for various reasons, same being under the provisions of the social security act under which pensions are granted.

For instance there are 20 or more of the members under 65 years of age. Some have never taken out naturalization papers and some are out of the running in the matter of state and county residence.

Plans were carried out for the annual Thanksgiving ball, the evening of November 24 presumably. As the Hallowe'en observance was passed up the members of the home anticipated something a little extra for Thanksgiving.

A movement has been launched for the holding of social gatherings in the assembly hall each Friday afternoon, from 2 to 4. Thirty of the men and women met Friday afternoon and agreed upon a tentative plan of operation, which seems good.

Religious services were conducted in the assembly Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. N. Fifer, pastor of the Elmhurst Baptist church, brought the message. Singing was led by members of his party.

CENTERVILLE AND NILES MEN ARE NAMED ON CONVENTION GROUP

In announcing the personnel of the committees for San Joaquin, Alameda, San Benito, Santa Clara, Monterey, Santa Cruz and San Mateo Counties, the Department emphasized that the Fruit Growers and Farmers Convention is entirely public. There are no designated delegates and all sessions are open to all.

Personnel of the committees include, for Alameda County, George Lowrie of Centerville, Niel McArthur, George Roeding, Jr. and Edward A. Ellsworth of Niles.

Plans for the annual Christmas party for Centerville children are under way. The affair will be given on Dec. 20, place to be announced later. Loren Marriott presided at the meeting in the absence of President J. V. Goold who was attending a rally at the high school.

TURKEY TIME

Back in 1620 a band of intrepid men and women landed upon a forbidding shore and stared at an uncharted, trackless wilderness stretching for they knew not how many miles.

Undismayed and undaunted, they took off their coats, pitched in together and started to build a nation.

When the rains failed and their corn shriveled in the fields, they humbly beseeched their God to send them showers. The showers came and thus was born the first "thanksgiving", a day set aside for offering up gratitude to a benevolent Creator.

Now, as Thanksgiving is here again, we too extend our thanks for the year which is almost past.

We are grateful that our Nation is strong and at peace with the world!

We are grateful for the blessings of Freedom in these United States—a Freedom which embraces the rights of a free press and free assembly!

We are grateful that, though our Democracy is not perfect, still it remains a Democracy where "blood purges" and murderous "liquidations" are unknown!

We are grateful for our standard of living which, while not yet as high as we should like to have it, still is the most prosperous the world has ever known.

We are grateful for our schools, for our parks, for our splendid, sky-aspiring cities and our fertile countrysides!

We are grateful for the privilege of building our homes and rearing our children in security and contentment!

For all these gifts and many others unrecorded, we tender our thanks on this Thanksgiving!

A GREAT PIONEER

In the hustle of Thanksgiving preparations it may have been forgotten that 224 years ago this week on November 24 California's first, and one of her greatest pioneers was born—Junipero Serra.

Today we call a man able who can do one thing well. In Serra's time when California's vast expanse was largely an unexplored wilderness peopled by savages, one had to do many things and—do them well! Serra did.

Though frail of physique he tramped many hundreds of miles, educating, organizing, and building the first colonial outposts of the great territory that was to become the State of California. These early settlements-a long chain of missions sweeping from San Diego to San Francisco-are now inseparably woven like a thread of gold in California's story.

History sheds a glamorous light on the fiery, zealous figure of Serra, striding masterfully across mountains and valleys, instructing ignorant Indians, teaching them how to fashion adobe bricks and construct missions and presidios. We accept him for the successful pathfinder history rightly says he was.

Washington Township Ranks High Among Wine Producing Communities of California

Due to the importance of the wine industry in California, and especially in Alameda County, Supervisor George Hellwig has checked some of the salient factors in connection with wine making in this county.

Within Alameda County there are some 4,000 acres devoted to the growing of wine grapes. The entire 4,000 acres are within the borders of Murray, Pleasanton and Washington townships.

While wine making started as far back as 1797 at Mission San Jose, it was perhaps 50 years later that the growers realized the significance of the soil in Alameda County as being especially adaptable to the growing of wine grapes. New vines were imported from Spain, Italy, Germany, Asia Minor, Persia and Egypt.

Experiments proved that the soil in the Livermore Valley, including the Pleasanton district, produced as fine a type of Sauturne wine grape as that found in the French district bearing that name. The same conditions applied to the growing of the grape that produces the world-famous Chateau Yquem type of vintage; so, naturally the fame of white wines produced in the Livermore Valley spread far and wide. Known as the Queen of table wines, the Chateau is in much demand, by those people who appreciate a high quality vintage.

A similarity of soil conditions to that of the Livermore Valley exists in the Mission San Jose and Irvington districts.

At the recent California State Fair, Sauturne, produced in the Livermore Valley, was adjudged the best among 27 separate entries from all parts of California. The same results were obtained down at Pomona in the Los Angeles County Fair when Alameda Sauturne was awarded the gold medal.

Were it not for the vision of such men as the late James Concannon the late C. H. Wente, the late Clarence Wetmore and other pioneer vintners who imported the original grape cuttings from abroad perhaps the fame of Alameda County as a wine center would be unknown today.

The old Crellin winery at Pleasanton, now owned and operated by Ernest Ferrario, and the Garatt winery at Pleasanton, named after the owner, Frank Garatti, are among the older institutions where wine is made from carefully selected grape vines, the cuttings which originated in Europe.

Within a stone's throw of the old Mission San Jose de Guadalupe at Mission San Jose stands the Darrow Winery and the time-honored Rierh Winery. There are numerous other small, but just as important wineries scattered throughout the valley that produce a high quality grape.

Today, more than four-fifths of the wineries are located in California. Of the approximate 600 wineries operating throughout the United States, the great majority is located in California. Close to 30,000 people grow wine grapes in California. Due to the very similar climatic conditions of California with that of Sunny France wine making is what one might term a "natural" in Alameda County and other parts of California.

It is an education to visit the modern wineries that are operating in Alameda County, including those located in Livermore, Pleasanton, Mission San Jose and Irvington.

YOUTHS ARRESTED IN BAKERSFIELD BELIEVED WANTED FOR ROBBERY

NILES—Arrest of three boys who claimed to be residents of Alameda County and who are charged with robbing Kilkare Woods homes and Castlewood Country Club was made last week in Bakersfield.

According to press dispatches the three were attempting to hold up a service station when apprehended. They gave their names as Lawrence Braugh, 20, of Pleasanton; Fred Freitas, 20, of Oakland and Harry Roseblade, 20, of Livermore. Loot said to have been obtained in the burglarizing of 13 homes at Kilkare Woods was sold to Pleasanton junk dealers.

Clothing and other articles taken from suitcases of University of Washington football men at Castlewood Country Club on Nov. 5, are also said to have been traced to the three.

Deputy Sheriffs Grover Mull of Hayward and Mark Garbini of Livermore went to Bakersfield to interview the boys.

RADIO SKIT PROVES ENTERTAINING TO P.-T. A. MEMBERSHIP

CENTERVILLE — A radio skit written by Kate Sladek and presented by Mrs. Tom Maloney and Mrs. W. L. McWhirter at last week's meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the Centerville Grammar School proved one of the most entertaining features of this year's programs. It was a take-off on psychological advice administered to parents.

Mrs. J. R. Koons of Castro Valley was the speaker of the day. She discussed character education. Vocal solos were given by Roy Mathiesen, Centerville Grammar School senior. It was decided to omit the December meeting and announced that L. W. Musick, principal of the Decoto Grammar School would be the speaker for the January meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Geraldine Rogers, Mrs. Kirkish, Mrs. Marie Brazil and Mrs. Sladek.

BRISTOWS TO GO TO MARYSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bristow and family will spend Thanksgiving at Marysville.

PATTERSON BROTHERS COOPERATE IN AAA PLAN TO IMPROVE RANGE LAND

Patterson Bros. of Centerville utilize every opportunity to improve their range lands. They have 1500 acres in Arroyo Canyon on which deferred grazing is being practiced under the 1937 AAA range conservation program.

Patterson Bros. have consulted California College of Agriculture experts about what grasses are most adapted to their ranges. Recently, some of the agronomy specialists suggested experimenting with some new grasses on this land where grazing is now being withheld.

Some of the grazing land was not in very good condition when purchased recently by Patterson Bros. The field mice got into the poverty grass on this land and ate seeds of the better grasses. By keeping the cattle off, wild oat, filaree and bur clover have had a chance to come up, as well as some good bunch grass which the Agricultural College people identified as needle grass.

Patterson Bros. have both range land and cropland. Most of the crop land is in sugar beets although there is a little truck. After the crop land has been harvested, they bring their cattle down off the range to feed on the stubble.

NOTICE

Mrs. Adeline Costa had a citation with Miss Lillian Rose at Judge Silva's office today, November 19, 1937, for criminal slander. Case was dismissed until further remarks on the case by anyone.

(Signed) Mrs. Adeline Costa.

H. P. Garin Co., San Francisco

"We farm a large acreage in the Coast states. Crops consist of lettuce, celery, tomatoes and other vegetables; also fruits, sugar beets and grain. Much of our acreage is under carefully-controlled cultivation. To maintain such control, our tractors — whole fleets of them — must be ready, and capable of long, steady runs. Often they're required to pull in the field 22 out of every 24 hours for a week or more at a time.

"That's a test for any tractor. And we've tested them all. We checked fuel costs per acre. We watched the way they handled in soft sand, dust, mud, hillsides. Maintenance records were scrutinized for excessive repairs. Delays due to mechanical trouble were all reported. When we added up the score, 'Caterpillar'-built Tractors won without question.

"That's exactly why we now operate a fleet of 47 'Caterpillar' track-type Tractors."

The safest, surest way to buy farm machinery is to "check the records." Check the records of Peterson Tractor & Equipment Co. Find out what "Caterpillar" track-type Tractors are doing for hundreds of satisfied owners. Check with your neighbors who use "Caterpillar" Power. Then, try this tractor, doing your own work in your own way. Check your own records. Then you'll know why there are more "Caterpillar" track-type Tractors in use than all other track-type tractors combined!
